

Wednesday 25th March 2020

27.03.20

L.I. E narrator story

In 1940 some 2 very young children called Riley and Sam who were best friends and were being evacuated because of WW2, (World War 2) they were devastated to leave their homes/families. All they knew was that they were going on a train journey to Wales.

They got on the train and they had a good chat to take their mind off the war. 2 hours later a bomb hit ~~them~~ the train, luckily it only hit the train, not the coaches. Before the bomb hit the train the driver pulled the emergency brakes and jammed out.

2 Very boring hours later another train passed by and stopped for ever to get on, including the driver as a passenger! That other train was going to Wales ~~the~~ whilst the other train EXPLODED!! It took them 12 hours to get to Wales. "10 MG" said Riley and Sam together.

"Halalulula, praise the lord, were hereeeeeee! But are we going to get picked on Riley?" asked Sam. Riley and Sam were the first to get picked on. The people's names were ~~Joe~~, Bob and Ted.

The house was a mansion! It was bigger than the queen's palace.
"Halalulula, Halalulula, halalulula, halalulula, halalulula!" Riley and Sam both sang.

It is really hard to be a hotel manager because the hotel has to ~~take~~ money, you have to have trained staff and you have to know how to make customers happy.

All of my dad's managers are his best employees because they ensure their department's running properly.

The head chef earns £60 K per year,
The 7 junior chefs earn £20 K per year.

The front house manager is the manager of the general manager is reg.